

Hey [Lover's Name],

I hope you're doing well. I'm reaching out to you today, not because I want to, but because I find myself in a really tough situation. I've always believed in being self-reliant and handling my own problems, but right now, I'm genuinely stuck and could use a little help.

My car is currently parked in a place that's not safe at all. I've been trying to move it, but I've run out of gas, and I don't have any money left to buy even a little bit to get it out of there. If I don't move it soon, it's going to be towed, and that's going to put me in an even worse situation.

I hate to ask, but if you could spare even a small amount to help me buy some gas, I would be eternally grateful. I promise to pay you back as soon as I can. I understand if you can't or don't want to, but I'm really desperate right now and didn't know where else to turn.

Thank you for taking the time to read this. I value our connection, and I hope this doesn't change how you see me. I'm just going through a really rough patch.